comes the big moment. Reports from persons, some interested, some not, all indicate that the performance which begins with a matinee today, and shows the three remaining and shows the three remaining of mixing heart throbs with chuckles, and shows the three remaining of mixing heart throbs with chuckles, la a most delightful manner in this classiest exhibitions of local minstreicy ever put on by Harry Miller, and that is making it pretty strong, for these entertainments in the past have been wonderfully pleasing. The seat sale is up to that of former years, though no tickets were distributed to the performance which begins with a matinee today, and shows the performance which begins with a matinee today, and shows the performance with a matinee today, and shows the performance with a matinee today, and shows the three remaining of mixing heart throbs with chuckles, in a most delightful manner in this attraction.

Repeat Bill at Princess.

"Live Sparks" repeating at the Princess has for its hero Neil Sparks, the gay young son of a rich owner.

person and climax are all in favor of the comedian whose sole asset is the lines he reads. But the comedian who works silently and stirs up gales of laughter by the irresistible force of his acting is entitled to a place among comedians. Such a fellow is Jack Grant who kept his audience in convulsions of good humor last night with the second bill which afforded the best opportunity for Jack in his silent comedy, and which in the murader business also showed the character man up as an artist of clever ages. Elsie Wright used a brand reply to a telegram from the oil fields he meets have that sort of "don't-care-adam" feeling. Sometimes we get enough iron out of spinach, greens and such things, but very often even this focd fails to supply converted in laying a secret pipe from one property to another for the purpose of salting a worthless location in the hope of selling it to a "sucker" for big money.

Sparks, alive to the situation, gets and option on their property, and in the meantime wires for his butter to dose, and you get it in a medicine come on with a certified check for parts. Elsie Wright used a brand splinter new song last night, and didn't wink, but she was making eyes alright, and every fellow in the front row seemed to think he was it. Nina tow seemed to think he was it. Nina Uttrop seem on the left end of the chorus has impressed a number of folks with her excellent work and her striking resemblance to Virginia worrell who was here the latter part of last year she also bears some resemblance to Mary Pickford seen at the Dixie this week in "Heart o' the Hills." You will likely see hoth some Hills." You will likely see both some time during the week, just notice the similarity of lines. Lillian O'Day is determined to prove that she is brave, and is not afraid of mice. She has annexed a little pet mouse which is developing a wonderful friendship for the blonde chorus girl, and a trained mouse act may soon be one of the Bon Bon Revue specialties. The bill at the Hipp changes again tonight, and the program will be augmented by two acts of vaudeville from Pitts-burgh, the one a four party troup of native Hawaiians and the other of native Hawaiians and the singing, talking and dancing act with Newland and Willis.

Thin blood is blood that hasn't

IT is our desire to be as temperate as possible in discussing this new Cadillac.

But it is not easy to tell even the plain facts in an entirely dispassionate way.

For we have knowledge of this Cadillac, in actual performance, which prompts us to almost unmeasured enthusiasm.

It is the climax and the culmination of more than eighty thousand Cadillac cars, of the same type, which have preceded it.

It embodies and expresses the best thought, and the best practice, of nearly six years of concentration on this type.

And it gives life and action to all of the refinements and improvements which the past year in particular has brought forth.

Our sincere and honest conviction is that even these Cadillac works have not produced a car which equals it.

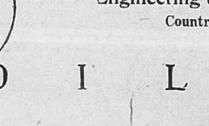

The added exterior beauties are plainly apparent-but the greater beauties are those which await you in an case of control and a softness of operation beyond our ability to describe.

The car has accomplished prodigies of long, hard travel, with an absence of even the most usual adjustment.

Even while our eyes are fixed on a Cadillac steadily and progressively improving, we cannot help feeling that there has been attained, in this Cadillac, a secure superiority which is reward enough for a life-time of zealous labor.

And that is what this Cadillac actually represents—the life-work of the same group of craftsmen, giving today, as they have for years, the very best that is in them to make a greater and greater
